Bow Island celebrates July 2nd.

Wedding.

FULLER—HENDERSON.
On Tuesday, June 19th, at eleven o'clock, the Presbyterian church was the scene of a pretty wedding when Lucille Violet, only daughter of A. W. Fuller of Bow Island and W. F. Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Henderson also of Bow Island, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, the Rev. Chas. Bishop officiating.

The bride, who was attired in a charming gown of white charmeuse with veil and orange blossoms, carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaid Miss Ethel Harding of Lethbridge, wore a gown of white taffeta with pink trimmings and a large picture hat. Little Ora Luskke as flower girl carrying a pretty white basket filled with pink and white sweet peas, was very sweet in white silk. The groom was attended by his brother Mr. Eddie Willmot.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played by Miss Lorraine Vesic.

After the ceremony the guests returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Luskke where a dainty breakfast was served.

The bride's travelling costume was a taffeta suit of old rose and blue, with tail of gold lace and she wore the groom's gift, a pair of canoe earrings.

The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a pearl earring, to the organist a canoe lamp, to the flower girl a gold brooch and chain and to the groomsmen a Masonic pin set in pearls.

The happy young couple left for Calgary and Banff amid showers of rice and best wishes.

The presents were numerous and costly among which was a plate of gold pieces from Mr. F. W. Henderson, father of the groom.

New Homestead Map.

A new edition of the Southern Alberta Homestead Map—a most useful publication, both from the standpoint of the settler and the business man—has just been issued by the Natural Resources Intelligence Branch of the Department of Interior, Ottawa.

While the primary object of this map may be said to have been to afford reliable information to the prospective settler as to land open for location, it is also designed to assist the general public which in many instances supply the advice of war for the opening up of a new country.

The colour scheme adopted in former editions of the map has been simplified in this tenth edition. The land has been divided into main classes. The first of these represents that which has already been patented and the second shows that which, while entered for has not yet been patented. In addition to these divisions the var-

S.A. Appeals to Bow Island.

The hearty way in which Bow Island people have responded to the appeal for the Salvation Army in the past few days is very commendable. The sum of $87.50 has helped to lighten the financial burden and make life brighter for those whose lot in life is less happy than our own.

Last Saturday Rescue Home during 1916 forty young girls have been rescued from sin. Thirteen of those have been again restored to their homes, while suitable situations were provided for seventeen. On Jan. 1st 1917 ten still remained in the home. Most of those have since then been sent either to situations or to their own homes.

Our Children's Home provides for homeless children where one parent struggles with the problem of providing for a family after the loss of the partner of life's joys and sorrows.

Thinking tales of need come constantly to our ears. Help for those institutions will be most heartily appreciated.

The Salvation Army Rescue Home you will find at 211 11th Ave. East Calgary, where the matron, Adjutant L. Wood, has been exceptionally successful for the past two years in lifting her to a higher plane of usefulness than was the lot of the poor of sin.

In the Children's Home 335 11 Ave. West, the Matron Edna Parr grapples with the many problems connected with the children's development. To make capable citizens, to inspire hope in parents whose hope of success in the future for their children and themselves has somewhat waned, to clothe, feed and train these young lives is a task capable of drawing out all that is best in ourselves.

Can you help these noble women in a work bringing such genuine satisfaction in results with eternal value? It is the opportunity of a lifetime. Any donation sent to them will be most heartily appreciated.

The mailing address of the writer is the National Headquarters, Rooms 1 and 6 Victoria, Block, Edmonton. Trusting our Father's deepest blessing to brighten the life of each reader and donor.

Gratefully yours,
Lillie L. Dryden, Adjutant.

These volumes indicate forest, reserves, Dominion parks, timber lands, grazing leases, Dominion Land Office, and local areas. The unoccupied and shown surveyed are available for settlement. Another very important feature shown is the precise location of the railroads—these great arteries of trade—while other topographical features such as the position of lakes and rivers are also indicated.

Application to the Superintendent of the Natural Resources Intelligence Branch of the Department of Interior, Ottawa, will secure a copy, free of charge.

Confederation Jubilee, July 1st 1867-1917.

On the 1st of July next, Citizens of Canada will be called upon to celebrate the Jubilee of their country, the fiftieth Anniversary of Confederation.

While rejoicing in the national greatness of our Country and in the ideals of freedom which she upholds; while han-giving to the full the freight of the Fathers of Confederation to whose far visioned Statesmanship we owe our place amongst the Nations of the world; it is true, nevertheless, that few, if any of us at the present time feel inclined for general festivity. Our thoughts turn instinctively to those brave men, our fellow-citizens who are giving their lives in defence of Liberty and whose deeds have made the name of Canada glorious for all time and amongst all peoples.

In proportion to its population, the province of Alberta has given more men to the War than any Province in Canada. Our casualty lists record daily the stories of those who have gone from us. Can we therefore, more fittingly commemorate the National Birthday of our Country than by dedicating the celebration of this day to the help of our sick and wounded? Their needs were never so great. It has been said that without the Red Cross our armies cannot win the war. Without adequate help the Red Cross cannot bring succour to our men who are suffering.

The Alberta Red Cross Society has requested that July and next, on which date Dominion Day celebrations will be held, be observed as Red Cross day throughout the Province.
It is requested that all monies raised on that day either through ordinary holiday celebrations or through special efforts on the part of various Societies and Districts should be turned over for the use of the Red Cross. All sections of the community are urged to co-operate in a great Red Cross effort. In this connection circulars are being sent to the Mayor of your town, to Local Clergy, to School Teachers, and to the Heads of all Patriotic Societies in your District, and it is suggested that if possible the interest and sympathy of every man woman and child should be united on behalf of the Red Cross.

Thousands of Dollars are needed to successfully carry on our work. Let us make this day of Jubilee Confederation our day of Red Cross giving, which shall create a noble tradition of generosity and remain forever a proud tradition in the history of our Province.

Signed on behalf of the Alberta Red Cross Society,
Alberta Provincial Branch,

M. Pinkham,
Hon. Secretary-Treasurer.

Saving the Surplus

The shortage of labour and the security and high price of the cans have very materially reduced the output and increased the cost of canned vegetables so much so, in fact, as to make egg-lime almost prohibitive to the average family.

There is little reason, however, for any Canadian family not providing a sufficient supply for next winter.
Home-canning of vegetables is a simple matter; when put up in ordinary glass jars, securely sealed, they are as good if not superior to the factory brand, and the cost is much lower.

Peas, string beans, sweet corn, pumpkins, brussels, turnips and all vegetable will not keep without cooking, insistly by canning.

After cleaning and preparing the vegetables to be preserved, they are scalded in a cheesecloth bag and parboiled for five minutes. They are then dipped in cold water, packed in glass jars, boiling water poured over them to fill up all crevices, and the lids loosely adjusted. The jars are then placed in an ordinary boiler filled with water, with plates or dish covers to prevent the jars from touching the bottom of the boiler, and are allowed to boil steadily for 3½ hours. When lifted from the boiler, the lids must be screwed down tightly and the jars allowed gradually to cool care being taken that they are not exposed to drafts, as a sudden cooling may crack the glass.

Vegetables thus canned will keep and be a welcome addition to the table in lieu of the high-priced canned goods, and the surplus supply of vegetables, which otherwise might be wasted, will be preserved.

London, June 20.—Attempts of German business men to convert all kinds of holdings into currency of neutral countries, which are causing a slump in the price on the market, continue to be reported. It is declared in many quarters that the German financial structure is nearing a wreck, which has been impending since the United States entered the war. This event, it is believed, squashed all belief of neutrality that Germany had any chance to maintain. Now the Vow-means that the continuance of the war impair Germany's ruin.

The Motor Vehicles act, being chapter of the Statutes of Alberta, 1911 and 1912, is amended as follows:

(1) By adding to Section 3 thereof the following sub-section: "The headlights of all motor vehicles shall be so arranged that no part of the direct beam of reflected or refracted light issuing therefrom shall, when measured 25 feet ahead of such headlight, be less than 42 inches from the level surface on which the vehicle stands."

The new Baby Grand, or model F, Chevrolet, has just made its appearance at the Pacific Coast Chevrolet factory. The first one of these cars came out of the Pacific coast is believed to be the first of its kind, having driven from San Francisco to St.
Louis by R. C. Durant, vice-president of the Chevrolet factory, as the official trail blazer of the San Francisco Ad-club under caravan en route to the national convention. Additional Baby Grands are being turned out daily to meet a demand created by the former large four-cylinder model.

There are many improvements in the new car. The greatest change, according to President DeWitt, is to be found in the powerful valve-in-head motor. This stroke has been increased from four to five and a quarter inches, giving a piston displacement of 224 inches instead of 130. The car comes with 21st tires instead of 32nd, as formerly.

The car now has semi-cantilever springs, which have replaced the three-quarter elliptic. The body has also been increased in size, giving more room.

Improvements and Additions Reveals Burdett's Progress.

The Village Council is effecting a much-needed improvement on Main Street. The deep depression in the centre of this street has been a considerable nuisance through the water gathering there, and has caused considerable discussion. Through the scarcity of labour, however, together with other causes nothing was done in the matter until quite recently, when the excellent financial position of the town decided the Village Council that now was the time to do something in the matter.

A gang of men with the aid of a gas tractor and scrapers is now busily engaged in taking off the top of the high ground in front of the depot and transferring the soil to the lower part of the street. The same treatment will be meted out to the north part of the town, the idea being to level the grade and bring up the street level to a point where the water pools will be refused a lodging place.

Mr. and Mrs. Clegg went out this week to work for Jas. Neil.

Nels Strom left here this week on a trip to his old home in Minnesota.

Emerson Brown is now engaged in putting up a very commodious garage.

Miss Jennie Searies of Wilman, Siding, is spending a few days with Mrs. Terry Rygg.

W. J. Maxwell is reported to be making fair progress in his course of treatment at Banff.

Thos. Barnes and Matt. Kurtz have each purchased a "Gray Dot" car during the past week.

The chairman of the Council, A. Hamilton, is keenly watching the progress of the work on behalf of the town.

Miss A. Harvie has rented the Robur building and will establish there an up-to-date confectionery and ice cream parlor.

Miss Clara Proctor of Lethbridge is paying a visit to her parents here. Miss Lucy Proctor is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Piper at Lethbridge.

Rev. Bird, who it was erroneously reported in our last issue, had been transferred to Wainwright, is stationed for another year at Burdett.

Steve Huff, living west of Burdett and Miss DuFries of Nebraska, were married at Grassy Lake on Wednesday, day of last week. The newly-married couple will live on their farm here.

Mr. Stasch, of the Canada West Natural gas Co. has been transferred to Burdett as bookkeeper, taking the place of R. V. Benson who is now employed in the Lethbridge office of the company.

From students received here by friends, C. Brundale, who is undertaking a mission in Southern California, in the interests of the Church of the Latter Day Saints, is making good progress.

The scholars attending the Sunday School were all taken to Stedheim Hat on Saturday last for their annual outing. The arrangements were made by Geo. Poole. A very enjoyable time is reported.

The Burdett ball team is going strong this year. Last Friday they defeated Foremost badly, running up a score of 60 in the home team's favor. Today (Friday) they are tackling Winnifred, and on Tuesday of next week they take on Tabor.

R. D. Strong who purchased this place a residence in town, recently had a very narrow escape. Whilst coming over the railway crossing in his auto his car was struck by a freight engine and smashed up badly. He, himself, unscathed, occupied with a few bruises and a bad shaking.

Three died on Monday, June 18th at 2 a.m. at his residence northwest 22-10-12, Thomas P. Judd, aged 26 years and eight months. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Grassy Lake. A short service was held previously at the residence, at one o'clock.

Burdett celebrates July 4th.

Open to Misinterpretation
Bobby Derry and Dennis Gault through O'Connell's barfly held, and silently seated their lives, side by side, upon the fence surrounding the place.

The shadows deepened. Nothing broke the stillness save an occasional gust from the interior of the str.

"Be something," said Betty, a bit of impatience in her voice.
"Oh beautiful ya be, Betsy," whispered Dennis.
Betty edged a little closer.
"Just think!" went on Dennis, then encouraged. "When I'm enough to buy a pig, we'll have a home all our own; and it won't be much longer."

"Oh, Dennis," she answered, a trifle resentfully, "what do I care for pigs? I shan't want a pig when I've got you."

And the inmate of the sty gave a double grunt.

But He Didn't Want to Land There!

"Oh, captain, what a great find! A search dogger, but really in a deck chair, how he can be so land!"
"Mile and a half" came the reply.
"Thank he best in what direction?"

A twinkling note for a moment in the eye of the dog, and he was off. "Straight" he was greeted.

Logical Paraphs
A lesson in elementary anatomy is being given by the school. The notifier noted that he has seen a lady looking at the face of the teacher of L.

"Now, recollect that you are to be at least as good as the teacher. Only one of the school's signs of intelligence, but he was most so enthusiastic.

"Well, Sammy, you seem to be the only one who has learned anything. Tell the class what you know."

"The part of the body that has the hardest time is the eye."

"How is it, Sammy?"
"Because, every day it has the bath, and every night it gets a good silding."

He Took Chances
The judge in the writ and woolly West had declared that he would stop the carrying of firearms in the street. Before him appeared for trial a tough youth charged with getting drunk and firing his revolver in a crowded street.

"Five dollars and costs," said the judge.
"But, your honor," interposed counsel for the prisoner, "my client did not hit anybody."

"Why, you admit that he fired the gun?"
"Yes, but he fired it into the air," explained the lawyer.

"Five dollars and costs," repeated the judge. "He might have shot an angel."

Never Can Tell
William Tell and the Austrian governor were discussing the morrow's target practice.

"I can shoot that apple off with my eyes closed," said the Swiss hero confidently.

The Austrian smiled grimly.
"You refer to me, Tell," he answered dryly.

Try This
She—No, George, I am afraid I can not marry you. I want a man who possesses a noble ambition; whose heart is set on attaining some high and worthy object.

He—Well, don't I want you?

Mr. Collins, teacher of Rocky Lake was in Winnifred Saturday, accompanied by Mr. Scott.

Mr. Tubman of Winnifred was a caller at Mr. Breathorn's last week and mailed last week's grief of news for the Review.

It is reported that Mr. Will Matson, son of M. K. Matson of the Corner District was wounded in the trenches recently.

Mr. Salisbury and lady friend moved over to Robt. Brethorn's Monday night. The Salisbury Co. hall from the Salisbury Coal Mine.

Farmers in need of a farm hand could have signed up a desirable one Saturday in Winnifred. He had been working for Mr. Kendall.

Mr. Arthur Brethorn, wife and baby were in Winnifred Saturday. His brother Robt. Brethorn offers his Ford car (now at Suffield) for sale for $100.

Mr. Phil Hapson has just purchased from Beattie's Garage, Bow Island, a new Ford car, through Mr. Tubman of the Lake of the Woods Elevator Co. of Winnipeg.

Mr. Christ Engle, is about to purchase a new auto and it is said Mr. Enell Johnson contemplates doing likewise shortly. Mr. S. H. Breathorn has postponed his decision for the present.

Mr. Bert Edwards of this district, holds the experts record as rock digger of Southern Alberta. He often clears ten acres per day, at 25¢ an acre, and has just completed big jobs for Mr. Theo. Rapson and Mr. S. H. Breathorn.

Mr. Oliver Dumas and Miss. Grotte Rapson, with Mr. Theodore Rapson motored to the funeral Saturday, as did Mr. Alex Sanderson and Mrs. Sanderson. Mrs. E. B. Steel accompanied.

passed Mr. A. M. Peterson and Mrs. Peterson. Mr. and Mrs. Breathorn and the teacher were also in attendance.

If Unmarried, You Must Prove It.

If women have had their rights trampled on in the past, they are now coming into their rights with a vengeance. They have the right to vote, have elected their first woman M.L.A., have representation on the school board and are thinking some of getting representation on the aldermanic board. In the United States there is a movement on foot to compel every unmarried soldier to marry before going to the front, and now the legal fraternity tell us that it would be unsafe for a mortgage company to loan money to a man unless he is married.

The question arose out of the interpretation of the Dewar Act and its application to mortgages. A general discussion on this subject took place at the second annual meeting of the Mortgage Loans Association of the Province of Alberta, recently held in Edmonton. Messrs. Howard, Simms and Collinson spoke at some length on the matter, and the opinions of different lawyers were sought. The final decision was that, in cases where money was loaned to a supposedly single man, and afterwards it was turned up and claimed donor rights, there was no help for the loan companies. So it was decided that no money be loaned to a single man unless he could prove that he is unmarried. In the case of married men there is also a difficulty, because it might transpire in some cases that the woman with whom he is living is not his wife, and another woman might put in a claim for donor rights, on, in case of a divorce, some flaw might be found in the divorce. So, that the only persons who can safely borrow money at present are women or men newly married. While the question of women's right to vote the question still is in dispute, it begins to look as though the vote were getting its footing in the marriage market. All who have to do is to sit back and take their pick of the marriageable men.

Funerals supervised and entire charge of arrangements undertaken.

Women's Institute.

The June meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the beautiful home of Mrs. James Gibson, 18 miles south of town. Mrs. Tweedle assisted Mrs. Gibson in entertaining. Several ladies took notes and these who were fortunate enough to go, certainly enjoyed a good time. Thirty-five ladies were present and forty new names were added to our membership making a total of 73 members. After the business, refreshments were served on the comfortable veranda. July 15th a basket picnic will be held at the river. All members please to go.—Secretary.

Will Return to Bow Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Beattie and family from Alderson are removing soon to the Donovan farm south of Bow Island. M. G. Harrington, who has been renting the farm from them, has put in the 1917 crop for the owners and Mr. Beattie is bringing his tractor and plow outfit to someone breaking and following for next year's crop. Geo. Beattie, Jr., is looking after the Alderson farm and the stock at that place. Mr. Harrington is looking out for land of his own and hopes to find a good place in the neighborhood, which will keep his boys and himself busy with their large outfit of horses.

Italy Uncoovers Spy

Why Cardinal Gerlach Made a Hasty Exit From Rome

A tale of German intrigue reaching into the inner circle of the Vatican, involving the Italian ambassador, Cardinal Gerlach from Italy, the cracking of a safe in the secret headquarters of the German Embassy at Vienna, and the mysterious escape from prison of Italy's two most notorious sateers, was told for the first time recently to the United Press by a reliable authority.

Stranger than fiction, the true story of the inside workings of the Italian secret service is tracking down the two German elements of the Pope's court, for a dramatic chapter in the history of the war.

On the sixth of April, Vienna dispatches announced the burglary of a house, adjoining "but having no connection with" the German Embassy. A large sum of money was said to have been secured by the robbers who escaped.

The same night a sensation was caused in Rome by the flight of Cardinal Gerlach across the Swiss border. Italian secret service agents, based in the German Embassy, had been working for some time on the escape and discovery of the German elements of a score of pro-German plots. The next day many of these plots, which had been in progress throughout Italy, resulted in failure.

This, for ten days was all the world knew concerning the workings of the German secret service, which was connected with an insignificant robbery in the Austrian capital, the Cardinal's disappearance, and the wholesale arrests of German agents.

Another event which caused little interest at the time of its occurrence, yet which had a direct bearing on the successful breaking of the Italian spy-net, was the reported "escape" early in the month of April of Italy's most notorious sateers, who had been incarcerated for life in prison at Rome.

What has never been disclosed until now is the fact that the escape of these two men was planned by the Italian secret service, which was signed by the prefect of all the Italian police himself, and that each of the two sateers, later given $10,000 by the Italian government. The secret was that the government provided well worth the price.

For more than two years the Italian secret service, extending its reach over a far wider area than any one realizes even today, had been successful in tracing every German plot and intrigue in Italy to Vienna, in the Austrian capital, since succeeded in carrying out the plan to down to a certain house, adjoining the German Embassy.

Had they acted hastily, the spies might have brought down the safe, and even had hands on a certain set of precious papers, the Italian government would have been interested in them. But that is as far as they would go. The papers were turned over to the hands of the Italian secret service, which was to be used for the purpose of the safe, which was to be used for the purpose of the safe, which was to be used for the purpose of the safe.

When every detail of the hiding place of the papers had been learned, in secret service, the Italian secret service, which was to be used for the purpose of the safe, which was to be used for the purpose of the safe, which was to be used for the purpose of the safe.

On a favorable dark night the "escape" of the famous sateers, which was to be used for the purpose of the safe, which was to be used for the purpose of the safe, which was to be used for the purpose of the safe.

When the Italian capital was arranged and the Italian secret service, which was to be used for the purpose of the safe, which was to be used for the purpose of the safe, which was to be used for the purpose of the safe.

How they were smuggled into Vienna no one will ever know, but when they did undertake the robbery of the safe, they were provided with the means to escape, which was to be used for the purpose of the safe, which was to be used for the purpose of the safe, which was to be used for the purpose of the safe.

See obvious reasons they could not instantly communicate their knowledge to headquarters at Rome, any in the meantime, while attempting the robbery of a "large sum of money," the Austrian secret service, which was to be used for the purpose of the safe, which was to be used for the purpose of the safe, which was to be used for the purpose of the safe.

A secret wireless, in communication with Cardinal Gerlach, who departed unceremoniously from the Italian court. With the evidence in hand, the Italian police were able to trace the two sateers to a small house in the heart of a "Toscani" element in the highest church circles of Rome.

Source of Action
The sympathetic visitor to the jail was that one of the prisoners had said that he had no other friends in the jail. "Ah, you have a rat, I see," he said blandly.

"Yes sir," said the prisoner, "I feeds him every day. I think much of that rat than any other living creature."

That reply pleased the visiting immensely.

In every man, he said "there is something of the angel, if it is only one only find it. How came you to take such a fancy to a rat?"

"Yes he bit the jailer."

"The alien wondered why my wife accepted me."

"Didn't you tell me once that she had simple tastes?"

Co-Operative Marketing

High Cost of Living Laid to the Door of the Speculator

The war has not only directly caused by the war. For ten years at least the term has been in general use. During the election campaign of 1911 the problem was freely discussed and one of our noted professors of economics had much to say in the newspapers on the subject at that time.

Market conditions are mainly responsible for the H. C. of L., as we sometimes familiarly call it for a position to show how intimate we are with it.

There is one way to lower the prices of foodstuffs without lowering the farm income and that is by co-operation marketing.

A few instances which have been observed in the United States where they have similar economic problems to our own, will serve for illustration. A writer in the Prairie Farmer says:

I have seen broad lines of hungry men in Chicago blocks long, while on the farms in Michigan, just across ninety miles of navigable river, fruits and vegetables sufficient to feed the entire city were rotting in the fields because the growers could not, in the time of the season, get their produce to market.

Not very long ago I was in one of the charming cities of the north. In the late summer I have seen literally scores of farmers, who were growing the most delicious fruit in the world, struggling to get their produce to market, while in the same city, in the same season, I have seen literally scores of farmers, who were growing the most delicious fruit in the world, struggling to get their produce to market.

After I tried to figure out what or what was responsible for this, I found that the cause was the lack of a market. The farmers were not able to get their produce to market, and the city was suffering from a shortage of food.

The Vastness of Russia

Russian Empire Embraces One-Sixth of the Land Surface of the Earth

To the average man, Russia stands out in the far horizon of consciousness, as Canada did to Kipling's "Lady of the Snows" and, in addition, a nation of beads and blossoms and knouts, and Siberian prisons. When we think of its government, we think of a medical despotism, when we think of its literature, we think of a literary despotism, when we think of its politics, we think of a political despotism.

The Dangers in The Russian Nature

More Liable to Divisions Than Any Other European Nation

All men have come in touch with Russian politics know the dangers of the Russian nature—its belief in words, its casual ways, its fanaticism and want of method, its godlike difference to time and space. But in the practice of politics its greatest danger is division. Next to the Pope I suppose the Russians are more liable to splits and divisions than any other European, and the diversity of their religious sects is proof of it.

In 1905, as now, the revolution demanded a constituent assembly, and the rights of free speech, free press, free meeting, and free association (for trade unions and strikes) together with political amnesty. By the general strike all this might have been gained when the reforming parties fell out among themselves.

To be a Russian, in Russia, in the area of lands that own its dominion, is the largest nation in the world, as much as it is the largest in the land surface of the earth. When the Russian Empire is divided, it is divided into three parts: the European part, the Asian part, and the Siberian part.

The Kaiser's Deity

What Passes in Emperor William's Mind for Religious Thought

It is a curious deity that smiles on the Kaiser out of his mirror. The following brief selection from his private diary, written by his son, Prince William, illustrates what passes in Emperor William's mind for religious thought:

"I represent Monarchy by the grace of God."
"Only one is Master in the Empire, and I am that one; I will tolerate no other."
"On must at once have one will, and that is My will; there is only one law, and that is My law."

"I order you to shoot down your relatives, brothers—yes, even your parents—you must obey My will."
"I am the instrument of the Most High. I am His sword, His representative on earth."
"The spirit of those who oppose My will is the spirit of the devil. I will not let the devil into my mind."

"I am the instrument of the Most High. I am His sword, His representative on earth."

Friends Worth Retaining

The Great Mistake of Making War

Birds are the friends of mankind. We're it not for their kindly offices, the earth in a devastating flood; every green thing would disappear, as insects great and small, flying, creeping, swimming, boring and omnivorous, swept over the land. The birds, and the birds alone, are our guardians and keepers and yet we make senseless war upon them. Because a few birds that guard our pear and cherries take tribute of the fruit they preserve, we make senseless war upon them until by sad experience we are taught that it is a choice between plenty of birds and fewer cherries, and without the birds we desire at all. The hawks and owls rid us of pestiferous vermin, and now and then take a chicken for tribute, therefore we make war upon hawks and owls, and by and by we have no clover, because the mice have eaten of the hummocks and so the clover is not there, and the bottom of their seed and the bottom of their seed and the bottom of their seed.

The birds, and the birds alone, are our guardians and keepers and yet we make senseless war upon them. Because a few birds that guard our pear and cherries take tribute of the fruit they preserve, we make senseless war upon them until by sad experience we are taught that it is a choice between plenty of birds and fewer cherries, and without the birds we desire at all. The hawks and owls rid us of pestiferous vermin, and now and then take a chicken for tribute, therefore we make war upon hawks and owls, and by and by we have no clover, because the mice have eaten of the hummocks and so the clover is not there, and the bottom of their seed and the bottom of their seed and the bottom of their seed.

Birds are the friends of mankind. We're it not for their kindly offices, the earth in a devastating flood; every green thing would disappear, as insects great and small, flying, creeping, swimming, boring and omnivorous, swept over the land. Don't forget the sale at Mrs. Bruce's.—Advt.

Chas. Fowler is a visitor at Medicine Hat for several days. The Methodist Aid will meet with Mrs. Herman Schonert on June 28th.

Birth—On Sunday, June 17th, to Mr. and Mrs. Rich, Bow Island a son.

Birth—At the Bow Island hospital, on Sunday, June 17th, to Mr. and Mrs. E. Gage, a son.

Mrs. Mondy, who has undergone a serious operation at the hospital, is reported to be doing nicely.

Mrs. Charles, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Prouse, returned to Vancouver on Wednesday.

Sale of hats, for one week, beginning Wednesday, June 27. Reduction of 20 per cent. on all hats.—Mrs. Bruce.—Advt.

Mrs. M. Simpson had her house destroyed by fire early on Sunday morning, June 10th. Very little of the contents was saved.

Mrs. M. Mortensen, who has been a patient at the hospital for some weeks, returned home last week. Her many friends will be glad to hear that she is now considerably improved.

Forty-Mile baseball team trimmed a team from Medicine to a finish on June 10th, the score being 12-11. The chances for the Forty-Mile team at the stampee are being considerably.

The brethren of the local Masonic Lodge will attend divine service at the Methodist Church on Sunday evening next, June 24th, at 7:30 p.m. Visiting brethren are cordially invited.

Arthur Mack has secured the contract this week to erect a new building for the Union Bank. This new structure will go up on the corner of Main Street and Bow Avenue, and will measure when completed 24 x 50 ft. The intention, we believe, is to brick-veneer.

Every effort is being made in Bow Island to make the celebration on July 2nd a huge success. The Red Cross ladies have ordered big supplies of ice-cream, fruit and other delicacies to tempt the appetite of the holiday maker. If the sports committee comes through with equally an attractive program the celebration should be one to be remembered.

W. R. DePew has resigned from his position as Commissioner on the Bow Island Rural Municipality. His reason, we understand, is that he has no time to devote to the interests of the public. Mr. DePew's action will necessitate another election in all probability. Posters are now out announcing a meeting of the electors of the municipality for Tuesday, June 28th, to nominate a candidate.

The crops are doing fine, especially summer-fallow. Some fields, where the seed was put in on stubble or where the land was treated indifferently, on account of the dry weather of the past few weeks is not showing up as well as could be wished. To-day, however, rain has commenced to fall with every appearance of it being a steady downpour. With the ground well soaked even the indifferent fields are practically assured.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McGregor, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. James, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bell and Mrs. Duhagen will be leaving here July 10th or 11th on a trip to the mountains, via Medicine Hat, taking in the stampee en route. They will then visit Banff, Lake Louise and other points of interest in the Rockies, during which it is expected that the climbing fans of the party will unfold many a mountain peak to the delighted gaze of the scientific world.

GRAY DORT

Built for the Business Farmer

The Gray Dort was built for the business farmer. For 63 years Gray has been building farm vehicles. He knew what the farmer wanted for vehicles and what he needed in an automobile.

If an automobile is going to be a business asset to the farmer he must be able to use it every day in the year; when the roads are deep with snow; when the temperature is far below zero; and again in the spring when the frost is coming out of the ground and the mud is so deep and thick that the average car will sink to the hubs and be hopelessly stalled.

The Gray Dort is built for these conditions. It is a real farmer's automobile. The price, $910, puts it within the reach of every business farmer. Its light weight insures low cost of operation.

From every standpoint of mechanical excellence and appearance the Gray Dort meets a careful investigation of the Business Farmer.
